

JONKO-finance

Jonko finance is a crypto project that aims to launch its own token called JKN. We are a starting project which means there could be changes at our website and social media platforms. These platforms are Twitter and Instagram. To launch our token we are going to make use of a presale, the date for when this is set to happen wil follow soon.

After the launch of our token when the presale is finished we will launch a couple of NFT's. The goal of these NFT sale is to burn more tokens with every transaction.

Before the presale starts we are going to sell some NFT's, this is to support the growth of our token, info about this will be displayed on the website.

Our team exists out of 2 members, both are responsible for their own share of the project. One is responsible for all the social accounts as Twitter and Instagram, the other member is the owner and the creator of the token. Together we make all decisions about the sale of the token and the creation of the NFT's.
